Pictorial Story of Life at Emmaus High Compiled by The Tattler Staff

Thirty-five Seniors Edit Thirty-seventh Edition

The Tattler Staff presents with pride and pleasure this thirty-seventh edition of The Tattler. Our task has been a laborious, but pleasant one; that of gathering information on the most exciting, memorable, and eventful days of your life. In compiling the year's activities we have endeavored to focus our camera and thinking on you, the student body. To underline any one part of this book would be a mistake, for it is hoped that each individual page will hold a different value to every reader. May this annual, through the years to come, be a reminder of the delightful experiences that have been yours at Emmaus High School.

Balanced Educational Program for Main Concern of Directors and

The Board of School Directors consists of eight members representing the communities of Alburtis, Emmaus, Macungie, and the townships of Lower Macungie and Upper Milford. The Board is subject to regulations by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and its duties are definitely outlined by a school code. Their responsibilities include the employing of the faculty, the financing of the schools, the maintaining of school property, and the establishing of school policies within the framework of state laws. Their aims are to provide an adequate educational program for all learners and the best educational facilities possible.

The administrative staff is concerned with guiding and directing pupil growth. They strive to achieve this through the supervision of instruction, curriculum, and school activities. The administrators believe that the pupil is the primary consideration and that the policies, methods of teaching, and curriculum, should prepare students for the next step in their careers whether

Art and Music

Teaching each student the basic art medium so that he may learn to appreciate art is the primary aim of the Art Department. Elective art is offered for those who wish to further their talents.

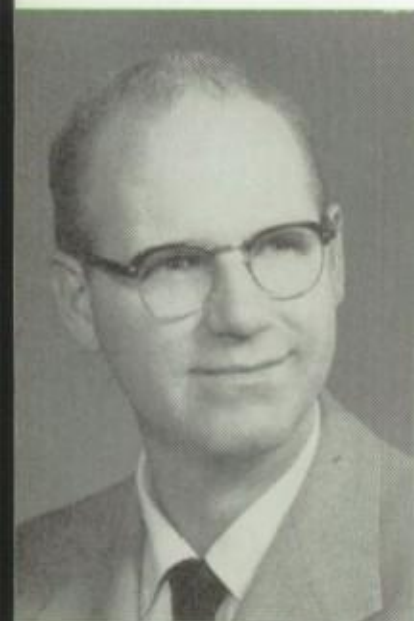

The Music Department, by training the ear and mind to understand and appreciate music, awakens interest. Where there is talent plus interest, the students develop their ability; thereby producing musical entertainment for the school and community.

MARY E. MILLER, B.S. — Art — Adviser of Leathercraft Club.

JACK M. LONG, B.S., M.M.Ed. — Instrumental Music — Director of Band — Adviser of Dance Band Club.

ERROL K. PETERS — Music — Director of Orchestra, Glee Clubs, Chorus — Adviser of Freshman Music Club.

Art Room

Languages

To give students complete understanding of the English language and to teach them to speak fluently are the aims of the English Department. Even though the methods of teaching literature, composition, vocabulary, and grammar differ to meet the needs of the students, the principles remain constant.

Foreign languages not only stress fundamental usage, but also attempt to give the students an understanding of other peoples and their customs.

Sciences

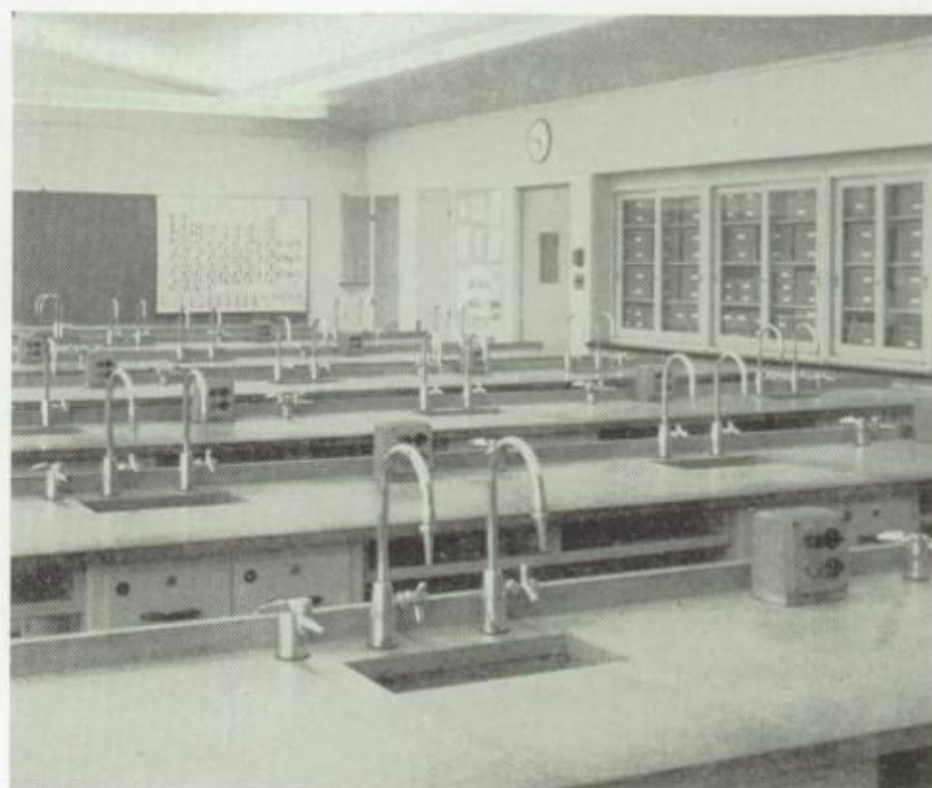

The staff of the Science Department combines to present various general science, biology, chemistry, and physics courses to the student in well-equipped classrooms and laboratories. Clear objective reasoning, needed to reach scientific solutions for practical problems met in life today, is stressed by the department. By fascinating demonstrations, student experimentation, audio-visual aids, and out-of-class activities, the student acquires a better understanding of the sciences and becomes aware of the multitude of ways in which they affect our lives.

Social Studies

Realizing the need for students to study the past and understand the present to better prepare for the future, the Social Studies Department teaches by discussion rather than by regimentation. The teachers also point out the benefits bestowed on us by our forefathers, emphasizing the fact that these traditions can be upheld only by well-informed citizens worthy of participation on local, national, and international levels. Trips to the United Nations, County Court House, State Hospital, and County Prison provide excellent opportunities for practical application of social studies.

Business Education

Students planning to enter the business world as secretaries, stenographers, bookkeepers, or clerical workers are well trained in the Business Education Department. Upon graduation, students of the commercial or secretarial course must have achieved occupational competency to such a degree that they will be efficient employees. To acquire these abilities the students receive instruction in skills, so that the goals to become competent employees may be accomplished. Part-time work through the Co-operative Training Program during the second semester of the senior year provides on-the-job training.

Graduates

Four Years Ago, the Class of 1959 Lived

DAVID E. ACKER
639 CHESTNUT STREET

Tweety, the hunter and trapper of the class, often spun an interesting yarn about his wintry exploits in the woods, or his adventurous jaunts along streams. Apparently a quiet fellow, he was, however, often the instigator of many mischievous pranks. His interests ranged from dancing to automobile racing. Dave plans to fulfill his military obligation after graduation.

GENERAL COURSE.

249 MAIN STREET

Marlene's quiet composure and ability to take criticism unusually well made her a likable classmate and student. In her leisure time she was either skating or engrossed in a book. Apparently imperturbable, she became aroused while discussing a student's disrespect for the Alma Mater and rude behavior in the halls. Her desire is to become a file clerk or typist.

CLERICAL COURSE. Home Nursing Club 1, 2; Tennis Club 3; Gym Exhibition 2.

EMMAUS, ROUTE 1

'Monte', who entered E. H. S. as a senior, had no difficulty in adjusting himself to the school and making friends, because of the garrulous and gregarious nature which he possessed. Another contributing factor to his immediate popularity was his beautiful tenor voice. Having a Herculean physique, which will be the envy of his college friends, Dave joined the weight lifting club, and was elected its president.

GENERAL COURSE. Wrestling (Student Manager) 3; Glee Club 3; Chorus 3; Weight Lifting Club (President) 3.

339 CHESTNUT STREET

"How you doing, kid?" was Lani's pleasant, friendly greeting to everyone. The fact that he was an excellent guard for the football team and a capable manager of the basketball team helped him gain the respect of his classmates. Lani was an athlete at heart, but never passed up an opportunity to dance to rock 'n' roll music or go bowling with the gang.

WILLIAM R. ANDERSON
177 HARRISON STREET

Bill's interest in science and astronomy was not evident to his classmates because of his retiring disposition and reserve. These interests, however, did not keep him from having friends and enjoying his school life. Bill's expressed aim is to be the recipient of a college degree.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. United Nations Club 1; Astronomy Club (Treasurer) 2; Mathematics Club (Treasurer) 3.

BONNIE L. ANDREWS
543 NORTH SIXTH STREET

A radiating personality and a friendly smile helped Bonnie cheer many of her acquaintances. Anyone looking for this ambitious, blue eyed blond, could find her reading, babysitting, or dancing, which she enjoyed along with anything that included the word fun. Bonnie hopes to contribute her share to the nursing profession.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Glee Club 2, 3; Chorus 3; Tennis Club 1; Drama Guild 2; Home Nursing Club 3; Gym Exhibition 1.

LAVERNE B. ARNDT
VERA CRUZ

Popularity and versatility exemplified LaVerne's character in school. In addition to instigating classroom antics, LaVerne, with his masculine physique, performed as a swimmer, wrestler, and gymnast. His love for the outdoors is shown in his like for archery and hunting, which, along with endless dating, comprise his recreational time.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Track 1, 2, 3; Wrestling 2; Gym Club 1, 2, 3; Gym Exhibition 1, 2; Aquacade 1, 2, 3; Homeroom Officer 1, 2.

LARRY C. BACHMAN
336 MINOR STREET

Larry was recognized everywhere by his dark crew-cut. His precise and agile performances on the trampoline made him an outstanding gymnast throughout his high school years. A sociable lad, he gets along well with everyone and has numerous interests which include hunting and archery. Enlisting in a branch of the Armed Forces is his immediate plan for the future.

THOMAS B. BAKER

526 FRANKLIN STREET

Tom's infectious laughter, sincerity, and masterful control of the keyboard aided him in making many friends. Besides his zestful piano playing, Tom's interests included ice skating, riding his scooter, playing table-tennis, and golfing. Following high school, he plans to further his education in the field of mathematics.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Golf Club 1; Dance Band Club 2, 3.

EMMAUS, ROUTE 1

Classical music and non-fiction books are Kaaren's prime interests in life, but she still enjoyed school activities and staunchly supported them. To surprise and delight her classmates, Kaaren tinted her graduation pictures for them. Her immediate plan is to enter nurse's training at Washington Sanitarium and Hospital.

GENERAL COURSE. Glee Club 3; Chorus 3; Home Nursing Club 2, 3; Drama Guild 1.

FREDERICK E. BARTHOLOMEW

531 CHESTNUT STREET

A beautiful and melodious voice is Freddie's forte. Because of his inimitable singing ability, Fred starred in many school and civic productions. As much as he enjoyed stock car racing, dancing, and eating; he despised sack dresses. Working as a machinist's apprentice during the summer months paved a positive path for his future.

GENERAL COURSE. Class Play 3; Glee Club 2; United Nations Club (Treasurer) 1, (President) 2, (Vice-President) 3.

RICHARD W. BARTHOLOMEW

20 EAST GREENLEAF STREET

Dick was admired by students and teachers for his astuteness, versatility, and high scholastic standing. There was always time in his busy schedule to make posters, and participate in athletic and musical activities. His aspiration — a degree in architecture.

Spacious Corridors of E. H. S. . . .

WILLIAM S. BENNETT
34 PINE STREET

Blond hair, freckles, and a football player's physique characterize Bill. He was a conscientious student and a regular participant in the Science Fair. For diversion from his intellectual interests, he enjoys tennis, ice skating, and dating. Always polite and courteous, he should readily win the respect of his college classmates and fraternity brothers.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Homeroom Officer 2; Football 1, 2, 3; Baseball 1, 2, 3; Sports Officiating Club 1, 2; Varsity "E" Club 3.

C. JOHANN BIERBAUER
955 EVERGREEN STREET

Yogi kept quite busy with his journalistic endeavors and musical activities, but was busiest when he was lugging his big bass horn down the football field. Johann, a good friend of everyone, has an outstanding aptitude for mathematics, as well as writing, both of which will help him attain a college degree.

RICHARD C. BOGERT
1045 Pennsylvania Avenue

Neat and well-groomed, Dick was admired by his classmates for the courteous and gentlemanly manner he possessed. Despite his diffidence, he always enjoyed a practical joke. When Dick was not working for Dr. Rockwell, he was attending football and basketball games, as well as other school functions. To serve Uncle Sam or become a veterinarian is Dick's future plan.

SARA JANE BRENSINGER
27 NORTH FIFTH STREET

Whether affably greeting a school acquaintance or vocally participating in the latest musical show, Sara Jane always radiated a spring-like freshness. Not only is she musically inclined, but she displayed her dramatic ability in the competent portrayal of Pat in the Senior class play. Sara's beautiful, melodious voice, in addition to her warm personality and trim appearance made her a popular classmate.

DALE W. BROBST

128 PINE STREET

Good-natured and easy-going, Dale was well-liked by all and admired for his smooth dancing. His enthusiasm for sports was exemplified in his attendance at most football, basketball, and baseball games. Enlistment in the Air Force is included in his future plans.

GENERAL COURSE. Glee Club 3; Chorus 3; Chess and Checkers Club 1; United Nations Club 2, 3.

DIANE BROWN
156 HARRISON STREET

Diane, who transferred from Palisades High School in her junior year, readily gained many friends. Her popularity and sparkling personality gained her the honor of being an attendant to the Junior Prom Queen. Whenever plans for class functions were made, Diane's original ideas and cooperative attitude were greatly appreciated.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Class Play 3; Student Council 3; Drama Guild 2; Home Nursing Club (Vice-President) 3.

MELVYN C. BRUDER
615 NORTH SECOND STREET

Mel's constant striving to improve himself in his athletic activities — on the gridiron and wrestling mats — and in his scholastic pursuits helped to give him the attributes of a well-rounded student. His friendly personality and boisterous laugh added numerous moments of enjoyment to all his classes. Mel's primary interest is electrical engineering.

GENE R. BUTZ
EAST TEXAS

Usually the victim of one of the Industrial gang's practical jokes, Drac calmly and nonchalantly took his abuse. When not trimming his buddies in a card game, Drac was hunting in the woodlands of East Texas. Although he has no specific plans for a career, he is looking forward to an enlistment in the Air Force.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS COURSE. Chess and Checkers Club 1.

JOHN D. BUTZ
560 NORTH SECOND STREET

John's ambition and pleasing personality have contributed to his four successful years at E. H. S. John's relief from scholastic endeavors was his enjoyment of boating and swimming on well-spent vacations in the Pocono Mountains. His ability and determination are indicative of an outstanding career in engineering.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Baseball (Student Manager) 1; Projectionist Club 1, 2; Model Airplane Club 2; Life Saving Club 3.

THOMAS M. CAPPARELL
547 FRANKLIN STREET

State Police bound, this good-looking lad has the physique and temperament to see that the Pennsylvania laws are upheld; however, his first obligation will be to the United States Navy. In his spare time he enjoyed hunting in the local woodlands and countryside, or training his beagle dogs for this purpose.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS COURSE. Hunting and Fishing Club (Vice-President) 3.

CAROL A. CHRISTMAN
ALBURTIS

As organist for her church and one of the pianists of the concert orchestra, Carol shared her talents in many musical activities; therefore, her choice of a career in music is understandable. She was a ready listener, a helping friend, and an enthusiastic leader in church work and Camp Fire Girls. A part-time job, plus all her other activities, kept Carol in a constant whirl.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Homeroom Officer 1; The Tattler Staff (Class Editor) 3; Concert Orchestra 3; Glee Club 1, 2, 3; Chorus 1, 3; Typewriting Club 1; Spanish Club (President) 2.

Having Reached the Highly Coveted Goal

MARY R. CHRISTOFARO

EMMAUS, ROUTE 1

Wherever there was joking or laughter, Christy seemed to be in its midst; nevertheless, she was conscientious and reliable in carrying out her duties. The script for the assembly program, "Lil Abner," was an example of her creative ability and wit; enactment of the role of Mrs. Falcaro in the senior class play, her dramatic ability. Mary's future plan — a degree in medicine.

113 SOUTH THIRTEENTH STREET

Creativeness, intelligence, and resourcefulness have motivated, Dorothy to pursue worthwhile activities — teaching Sunday School, reading historical novels, working in the school library, knitting, crocheting, and taking an active part in Girl Scout work. Her friendliness and patience will be valuable to her as an elementary teacher.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Glee Club 2, 3; Chorus 3; Dolphin Club 1, 2, 3; Library Club 1, 2; Needlecraft Club 3.

JERRE F. CLAUSS

188 MAIN STREET

This proud owner of a '36 Buick was a versatile saxaphonist and a member of the "Kats." Interested in musical activities, Jerre's sense of rhythm made him an outstanding drum major for the Green Hornet Band, while his roving eye made him the Class of '59's number one "Romeo." An active member of the Navy Reserves, Jerre plans to enter the Navy and eventually learn the printing trade.

GENERAL COURSE. Class Play 3; Track 1, 2, 3; Band 1, (Drum Major 2, 3); Dance Band Club 1; United Nations Club 2; Varsity "E" Club 3.

BARBARA J. COLE

802 LAWRENCE DRIVE

Well-dressed and well-read, Babs was a fashion and social leader. She proved her efficiency by serving as secretary of Student Council, and her originality as co-feature editor of the E-Hive. Babs, an excellent conversationalist and a good listener, plans to learn the how and why of human behavior by studying psychology.

COLLEGE PREPARATORY COURSE. Homeroom Officer 1, 2; E-Hive Staff (Reporter 1, 2) (Page Editor) 3; Glee Club 1; Chorus 1, (Secretary) 3; Student Council 2, (Secretary) 3; Dolphin Club 1, (Co-Treasurer) 2, 3; Gym Exhibition 2.

Themselves, They Reminisce; Recalling . . .

CARY R. CONRAD
MACUNGIE

Natural agility in baseball led Cooney to be a three-year letter winner. As a hunter he liked to search for small game in the game-laden fields of Macungie. Enrollment in a Naval Submarine school, marriage, and a happy family life are Cooney's uppermost thoughts for the future.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS COURSE. Baseball 1, 2, 3; Varsity "E" Club 2, 3.

FAY J. CONRAD
EMMAUS, ROUTE 1

Unpredictable and happy-go-lucky Fay, with her lively conversation and fondness for jokes, made an enjoyable companion. Her main interests were roller skating, dancing, swimming, and going out with her friends. The honesty and readiness to help others, which she possesses, will be appreciated by her future employer.

CLERICAL COURSE. Athletic Club 1, 2.

ELANOR F. DANNER
609 FERNWOOD STREET

Elanor was loved for her friendliness, sincerity, and spontaneous laughter. She has a flair for novel ideas and thoroughly enjoys sketching and oil painting. Possessing the desirable qualities of dependability, alertness, and ability to make people feel at ease, she will surely be a credit to her chosen field, nursing.

The Enlivening Humor and the Solemn

GLORIA J. DELONG
203 SOUTH FOURTH STREET

Although small in stature and seemingly quiet, Gloria was an avid fan at basketball and football games. Collecting records and stuffed animals are her hobbies, while dancing, ice skating, and eating pizza are her diversions. Always willing to lend a helping hand, Gloria spent many of her free class periods working in the health office. A nursing career is her choice for the future.

BARBARA A. SCHWENN

729 SPRUCE STREET

In her senior year this amicable and self-reliant newcomer to Emmaus transferred from Illinois, and in a very short time made many friends. As much as Barbara liked sports, drawing, parties, and playing the piano; she disliked malicious gossip. Her pleasing personality, consideration for others, and her sunny smile are admirable traits for this future Florence Nightingale in the Navy.

JAMES SEISLOVE

MACUNGIE

Quick-tempered, talkative, and mischievous, Jim often became involved in some kind of trouble with his teachers. In baseball he was an excellent outfielder, as well as the competent captain of the team. Baseball, working in the shoe factory in his hometown, or driving his scooter took most of Jim's after-school time. Jim plans to join the Air Force and eventually become a pilot.

ALMA MATER

As we plod thru life's road steeping
Climbing up those rocky hills,
We will ever hold in keeping
Thoughts of these dear wisdom mills.

Hear these silent stone walls shouting
Hear their words of would-be woe
Hear them plead with hopes and doubting
Hear them tell us not to go.

Gone is our gay "learned" company,
Gone those days which are of yore;
Much we did in rooms now empty
Things we'll do and see no more.

CHORUS

Alma Mater! Alma Mater!
Hear our song of thanks to thee!
Hold in keeping, joy and weeping,
Hold our blessed memory.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS: Stephen Kozy (President) presides at a class meeting held in the auditorium. Mary Dene Davis (Secretary) reads the minutes of the previous meeting as Richard Bartholomew (Vice-President) and Kenneth Link (Treasurer) listen attentively.

They Came, Saw, and Conquered, as . . .

School was delayed in opening that autumn of 1955 because the big, new building was not completed until October. Thus, on October 7 . . . how we recall that pleasant fall day as though it were yesterday . . . 267 wide-eyed, apprehensive freshmen began their high school careers.

They soon outgrew their shyness because, although the Class of 1959 was the youngest, it discovered the upperclassmen were as strange here as they. That gave them a greater measure of confidence than usual for a freshman class and set the pattern for their four years. Theirs was the first class to go the full journey, freshman to senior, in the modern school.

Yes, they constituted somewhat of a brash class. Circumstances aided them in acquiring that veneer . . . but underneath it all they had talent. They were good, and they knew it!

There were many items on the immediate agenda. At their first class meeting they selected freshman officers. Stephen Kozy, who was elected president, was to be re-elected in each of the following three years. As freshmen they also chose William Widmyer, vice-president; Bonnie Saylor, secretary; and David Acker, treasurer. Shortly after, they voted for the red rose as the class flower and blue and white as class colors.

Midway through the year the class turned its many talents to the field of entertainment and produced the annual Freshman Musical, which stood out in comparison with previous extravaganzas of its kind.

SENIOR SWEETHEARTS, Diane Brown, Barbara Cole, and Mary Dene Davis, with the latter receiving the honor, were elected by the Class of '59 to compete for the title of Sweetheart Queen.

Frolicsome Frosh

"Out of the Old, Into the New" was its title and it took a captivated audience from the Roaring Twenties to the current Rock 'n' Roll era. The theme was established and the show rolled along after Sara Jane Brensinger sang "Moonlight Serenade." During the evening there were kats and kittens. Stephen Kozy and his Kats swung out with everything from "When the Saints Go Marching In" to "See Ya Later, Alligator," and the kittens, Jean Glass, Joan Feely, Jean Hillegas, and Susan Fredrick presented soft shoe tap routines and a fast-moving Charleston.

In both athletic and musical organizations the '59ers early began to show the promise that was to reach maturity in the ensuing years.

In the spring the enterprising frosh had a brilliant idea. Why not use the patio for dancing? Accordingly, on May 12, they presented their one dance of the year, "See You on the Patio, Daddio."

KOZY'S KATS introducing rock 'n' roll into the show were (standing) Gary Ludwick, Thomas Kushinka, Barry Keller, William Schantzenbach, Stephen Kozy, and (seated) Paul Haiges.

BONNIE RANDALL, winner of the Lehigh County Voice of America contest proudly holds the highly coveted trophy she received as a reward for her outstanding speech.

Scintillating Sophomores

A bit more grown up, the class returned for its sophomore year, but its number had dwindled to 221. After re-electing Stephen Kozy as president, these officers were elected: Bill Widmyer, vice-president; Mary Dene Davis, secretary; Bonnie Saylor, assistant secretary; and Kenneth Link, treasurer.

They continued to prove that they had many sensational ideas. One plan they conceived has been used by the classes following them. It was a bake sale designed to boost the financial status of the class . . . and it did just that.

In November more honors came to them when Bonnie Randall earned the first place award in the Lehigh County "I Speak for Democracy" speech contest. Her research and fine delivery made her entry an outstanding piece of work.

Not content to rest on their laurels, they had still another brainstorm which took shape on December 14 when they sponsored the first sock hop in the history of the school. Amid a holiday atmosphere created by a background of snowmen, candy canes, and mistletoe, and with the Royal Dukes supplying the beat, the "Candy Cane Hop" went into the legend of the school as a smashing success.

This class was setting a pace that made it an act hard to follow!

Climaxing the year they presented the second dance of the scholastic season. The elaborate decorations followed a Latin theme and included everything but a direct descendant of Julius Caesar. "Roman Holiday" was another triumph of organization and presentation.

SENIOR CLASS ADVISERS get together for an informal chat. Standing: Mrs. Mary Yeager, Mr. Jerome Baer, Mr. William Miller, and Mrs. Hilda Moyer. Seated: Mr. Woodrow Schaadt.

ELEANOR UNSER studies her speech for the Junior Declamation contest, which she won for her rendition of "Why Don't You Tell Me These Things?" Irene Kline, James Martin, Carol Moyer, and Bonnie Randall also took part.

Jolly Juniors and Sober Seniors

As the sophomore year drew to an end, they decided to elect their junior officers. Again Stephen Kozy was named head man. Richard Bartholomew was selected vice-president while two others were re-elected to their second consecutive term in office, Mary Dene Davis, secretary, and Kenneth Link, the moneyman. Kathryn Kistler was chosen assistant secretary.

More dignity was assumed as they opened their third year at Emmaus High School. Two classes now looked up to them . . . and they were beholden only to the seniors.

Coveted Scores Recorded In Tests

Just before Christmas the class took the Iowa Tests of Educational Development and its overwhelming ninety-two percentile rank became both an achievement and a Yuletide present to the school. It again revealed what they had realized long before. The Class of '59 had potential and was using it. As their own Christmas present they enjoyed the "Snowflake Swirl" with its winter wonderland atmosphere. The outstanding decorative feature was a real horse-drawn sleigh set in the middle of the dance floor. Bud Peters provided the rhythm.

Another First For Emmaus High

Turning to athletics, the top-heavy junior class representation on the basketball squad helped the team chalk up another first for the school. The Lehigh Valley Scholastic league basketball championship was won when the Green Hornets defeated Catasauqua High. The '59ers who contributed so much to the championship were Robert Flower, Richard Kressler, Thomas Kushinka, Ronald Lauchnor, Neil Schaffer, William Schantzenbach, and John Yarema.

Weeks of planning and preparation were to be rewarded on April 25, the night of the Junior Prom. (See Page 76)

There remained a courteous gesture to the seniors. With a touch of sadness the '59'ers wished them au revoir et bon chance at their "Senior Farewell" dance.

Now It Was A Reality

They discovered a senior's life wasn't a bed of roses, because as members of the most experienced class they had to assume much more responsibility and leadership.

They began the year jubilantly when scores of Daisy Maes invited their 'Lil' Abners to the Sadie Hawkins dance, a senior sponsored affair on November 8. Novelty feature was the sale of baked potatoes and "Kite Juice."

Skipping through the holidays they approached the next major social event, the "Heart of My Heart" Valentine Day dance. Queens of all four classes were crowned at the dance.

March 21 was the date of the Senior Jamboree which boasted a pirate theme. Four exciting high school years were nearing an end when the class gathered at the Starlight Room of the Hotel Traylor on June 4 for its Senior Ball.

Wistfulness Conquered By Determination

A word of advice, another of courage to meet the problems of the future came from Cameron Ralston, the Commencement speaker, on June 9, 1959. "The American Way" was his topic . . . and it provided the '59ers with a challenge to take the confident spirit of their class with them on their respective journeys through life.

INTERMISSION at the Class of 1959 Junior Prom, held April 25, 1958 at Castle Gardens, brought about the evening's most anxiously awaited event — the crowning of the queen

They Danced 'Til Dawn

FOR EARLY MORNING entertainment, everyone gathered at the Owls Home. Here they are shown enjoying a turkey dinner as they reminisce about the prom.

Volunteers for the Prom committees were accepted soon after school began that year of '57-58. The juniors were anxious to present the most memorable dance in Emmaus High School history. The decorating committee, as many admiring couples commented, did an excellent job on its mural masterpiece, which hid every nook and corner of Castle Gardens' real surface.

An island, Rhapsody, surrounded by blue skies, palm trees, and seashells, was aptly described by the prom title, "Rhapsody in Blue." The carpet was rolled out at intermission and the enchanting attendants preceded Her Highness, Miss Susan Frederick, down the aisle to the throne where she was crowned Queen.

A police escort led the starry-eyed couples to the Emmaus Owls Home after the bewitching hour. A scrumptious turkey dinner was served to the dancers, and entertainment was provided by a well-known hypnotist, who sent them into gales of laughter.

They Acted Like Professionals

The outstanding dramatic event of their senior year was the presentation of the class play, "Dino," on November 21 and 22. Stephen Kozy played the lead as Dino, a teenage rebel just out of reform school. Opposite him was Mary Dene Davis as Shirley, a shy office worker in a slum area settlement house, who finally made Dino appreciate a better way of life. Instrumental in developing the plot was Bill Schantzenbach as a resident psychiatrist. Other prominent roles were taken by Dorsey Johnson, as a flip receptionist; Eleanor Unser, a settlement house worker; and Arland (Buddy) Friend, as Dino's worshipping younger brother.

Another year has gone by and with eager hearts and minds, the underclassmen step forward to greater success and recognition. In these willing hands rests the task of upholding past standards and striving to meet those of higher quality.

Classes

Junior Class

The Class of 1960's junior year proved to be both socially and academically successful. After the Christmas holidays, they were given the results of the Iowa tests and found that the class average was the highest in the history of the school. January 24, the high school cafeteria was the scene of "The Roarin' 20's," their first social function of the year. March 10, Kyle White's monologue, "The Madman," captured first place honors in the Declamation Contest. The Junior Prom, with a French setting, was held April 24 in the Moravian College gymnasium. An appropriate ending for a happy year was the "Senior Farewell" dance.

CHEMISTRY

Experimenting is an important and essential part of chemistry. 11A1 students, Nancy Crane, Lenore Skinkle, Bennett Lorber, and Thomas Johnson, learn by experience as they prepare nitric acid under the supervision of Mr. Harvey Becker.

IOWA TESTS

Students concentrate on answering the questions in the Iowa Tests of Educational Development administered December 10 and 11. The Iowa Tests show the academic progress of each individual student and of the class as a whole.

An eleventh grade class, under the guidance of Mr. Richard Keim, follows our country's progress through the years with emphasis on its government, background, and position in regard to the other countries of the world.

Charts and facts are employed by Mr. Richard Shaak as he explains to Carol Kuhns, Gloria Miller, Lynette Moyer, Lynn Brown, and Charlotte Reichard that there is more involved in driving than turning on the ignition.

Members of the 11S shorthand class write diligently as Lois Pigott dictates a speed test to them. The girls take turns dictating to their classmates daily.

SECRETARIAL STUDENTS Section 11S2

Sophomore Class

The class of 1961 was glad to shed the name of freshman and enter into its second year of high school with the title of gay, young sophomores. Although it was the largest class in the building, 295 strong, it never lacked coherence and cooperation. These two merited traits were best demonstrated in the dances they sponsored. The first dance, "Rockin Rocket" was held January 17 in the cafeteria. A happy ending to a blissful year was the dance held May 16.

ADVISERS, seated: Mr. Leon Tuttle, Mrs. Gladys Dissinger, Miss Mary Miller, Mr. T. William Krebs. Standing: Mr. Keith Smith, Mr. George Butler, Mr. George Blyler, Mr. Alfred Neff.

WORLD CULTURES

The aim of all world cultures classes was to learn, in the most enjoyable way possible, the world's history from the Renaissance to the Second World War. Here Pat Unser prepares an assignment on Africa, the country on the globe to which Merrill Miller is pointing, while Nancy Stephen and Robert Serfass study the geographical position of Mexico on the map.

BIOLOGY

In the world of science, experiments are just as important as actual teaching. Mr. William Miller's pupils benefit more from their classes by conducting their own experiments. Studying the structure of a fern are Geraldine Albers, taking notes; James DeLong, studying the plant; and Linda Heller, observing the experiment.

Freshman Class

September 2 began the high school career for 264 wide-eyed freshmen. Starting early to motivate innovations, they formed a welfare committee composed of homeroom vice-presidents. The annual freshman show, "Two Different Worlds," was a tremendous success for the Class of '62. With the advent of spring everyone awaited and prepared for their first social function, "Carnival Capers," a dance held in the high school cafeteria, while Jim Dandy, dressed as a clown, provided the music. A "freshman first" at this dance was the serving of carnival sundaes during intermission.

BABY HORNET, Diane Moyer, as mascot for the Green Hornet cheerleaders participated in their drills and helped to cheer the football team on to victory.

"GO! ALUMNI, GO!" was a cheer by former students for the alumni team which returned to their Alma Mater to encounter the boys' varsity basketball team on December 23.

THE CLASS RING is a treasured article of juniors, seniors, and alumni. The ring, with the school seal on a selected mounting, may be purchased in the junior year.

DOING THINGS TOGETHER seemed to be the motto of this couple. Gary Ludwick and Katy Fey were injured in an accident when taking a ride on Gary's motor scooter.

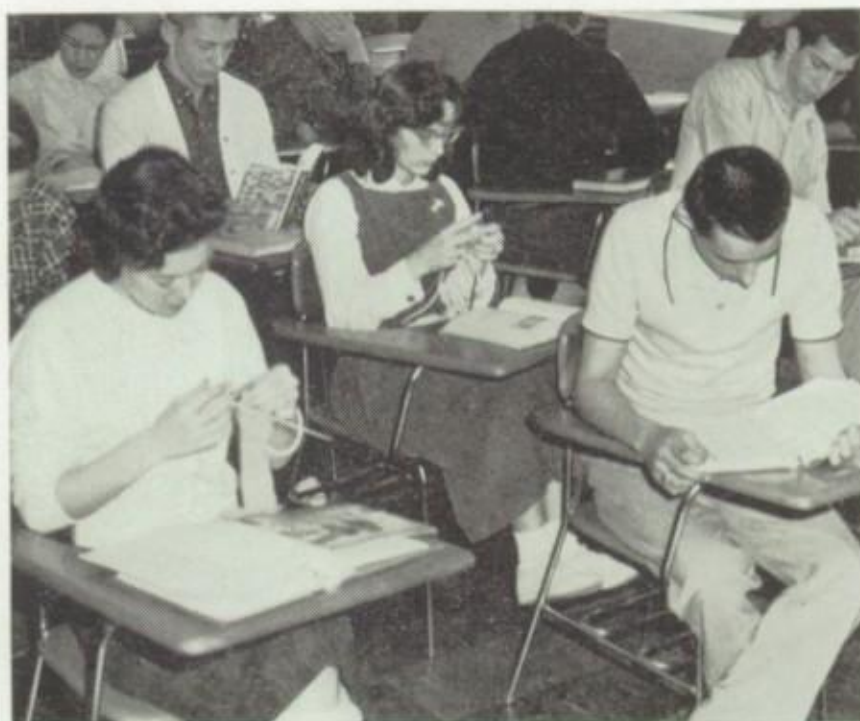

School Life

D.A.R. SENIOR CITIZEN OF 1959, Bonnie Randall, was chosen for possessing leadership and outstanding qualities in service, patriotism, and dependability.

EMMAUS SCORES AGAIN and Kenny Link, football student manager, pulls the cord on the miniature cannon. The cannon was an innovation at the football games.

KNITTING was a favorite pastime for many of the girls who tried their hand at this useful art. Plastic bags, containing their handiwork, were a common sight.

LONELY? Not James Martin. He was so engrossed in the Whitehall-Emmaus football game that he had no time to converse with the other band members.

THIS OLD TIMER was owned by junior, Bill Fetterman. One of its outstanding attractions was the rumble seat which gave many passengers a breezy ride.

TURKEY DAY GAME, played at Whitehall High School, proved to be a real chiller as colour guards and majorettes huddled together in an attempt to keep warm.

PANCAKES AND SAUSAGE were enjoyed at the Lumberjack Supper sponsored by the Band. "All you can eat," the supper's slogan, was put to a test by Fred Keiper.

L'L ABNERS AND DAISY MAES enjoyed the Sadie Hawkins Dance where a Dogpatch atmosphere prevailed. Dancing couples are Larry Hillegass, Linda Herman, Dorsey Johnson, and Harold Fulmer.

FOOTBALL QUEEN, Susan Frederick, was crowned by William Schantzenbach, Student Council President. Susan was chosen as the girl who did the most to boost the football team.

A HAIR-RAISING SENSATION was experienced by Lois Eichner when she volunteered for a scientific experiment in electricity at a special assembly program given by General Electric.

Be Remembered

BUCCANEER'S BAZAAR was the theme of the Senior Jamboree. Sara Jane Brensinger and Freddie Bartholomew, complete with eye patch, joined voices to help create the pirate setting.

SENIORS were seen exchanging class pictures here, there, and everywhere. The photographs, accompanied by a few well-chosen words, will hold fond memories.

CLASS SWEETHEARTS for the St. Valentine's dance, sponsored by the senior class, were Sharon Yaeck, junior; Julia Lorish, freshman; Mary Dene Davis, senior; and Peggy Saylor, sophomore.

"AUTUMN NOCTURNE," a dance sponsored by the E-Hive, provided a fall setting for JoAnn Jordan and Robert Lichtenwalner, who dreamily danced to the music of Jerry Tedesco.

"Two Different By Frosh In Annual

The annual Freshman musical presentation, "Two Different Worlds," was presented February 7, 1959 as a project of the music clubs, under the supervision of Mr. Errol K. Peters. Assisting Mr. Peters were Marguerite Stevens, Phyllis Dreisbach, Fred Bartholomew, Sara Brensinger, and Carol Moyer, senior student directors. The production, which was presented in two parts, revolved around the courtship of a country girl and a city boy who met at the County Fair. The romance blossomed until the young rural lass recalled her simple country life and realized that city life was just not for her.

The first act, The County Fair, began with a cute frolic "Country Style." The spirits of the audience soared as four Frosh lads, Frank Fredrick, William Lobb, Ralph Sassaman, and Thomas McHugh blended their voices and kicked up their heels to the tune of "Sweet Violets." Judy Heyer, portraying the country lass, and Charles Klitzner, her city beau, sang "Getting to Know You." "Lover Come Back to Me" crooned country boy Tom McHugh as a sweet plea to Judy, his country sweetheart. Charles, the gallant city lad, invited Judy to the big city for a visit; the occasion was a party.

KEWPIE DOLL, Nancy Felegy, won the heart of her winner, Tom McHugh, at the County Fair. Tom proved himself a talented singer in his rendition of "Kewpie Doll" as his doll danced.

Worlds" Portrayed Presentation

The second act was the city entertainment, taking place in a penthouse apartment. The freshman chorus, accompanied by the orchestra, had "A Grand Night for Singing," "Autumn in New York." Melanie Palmer, playing a poor little rich girl, influenced by her sentimental surroundings, appealed to Charles Klitzner singing, "Answer Me O' My Love." A harp, violin, and organ trio, consisting of Geneva Butz, Lynda Erwin, and James Bartholomew, along with the colorful Freshman Chorus rendered some very pleasant music to the festivities. The city with its fancy complicated life disillusioned Judy, thus, encouraging her to return to Thomas and her beloved country life.

CUPID'S COUPLES, Thomas McHugh, Judy Heyer, Charles Klitzner, and Melanie Palmer portrayed the story of country live versus city life. "Two Different Worlds" became one when the sweethearts found their ideals.

Seniors Elected To Student School Board

An innovation of the social studies department was the electing of a student school board, which consisted of seniors. The hopeful participants filed their petitions and a political rally was held in the auditorium with Mr. William Lobb presiding as chairman. The newly appointed board met and elected a superintendent of schools, principal, assistant principal, district secretary, and solicitor. On April 13, the officials met with their counterparts and learned the actual duties of the school board and administrative body of the school.

Students Participate In District Festivals

Emmaus High was well represented by sixteen musically talented students in various district festivals. Emmaus played host to the Eastern District Chorus, consisting of one hundred and eighty students from five counties. The concert was held April 17 and 18. Mr. Richard Schantz of Moravian College was the guest director. District Band was held February 12, 13 and 14 and District Orchestra on February 12 and 13 at Hamburg, Pennsylvania.

Accumulating knowledge is the most prominent part of the story of high school life. However, this story would never be complete without the activities that help youthful minds mature and teach young people to get along with one another.

Council Achieves Many New Goals

The Student Council, composed of one member from each homeroom, is the representative assembly voicing the opinions of the students. They met weekly under the supervision of Mr. Richard Keim and discussed solutions to the problems of the students.

Many new goals were reached by the council. Some of their accomplishments were rewriting the Student Council Constitution, posting a school calendar on the main bulletin board, and initiating plans for a National Honor Society. They also arranged entertaining and impressive lyceum programs for the enjoyment of the student body, and were host to the Tri-County Student Council Convention. A workshop at the beginning of the year for new members, the New Year's Eve dance, the dances after home football games, and Color Day were sponsored, as well, by the organization.

"ATOMIC ENERGY", a special assembly program, was presented by General Electric. Sara Jane Brensinger is checked for audible effects after she swallowed iodine in a demonstration experiment.

THE SCHOOL STORE, sponsored by the Student Council, offered items such as stuffed animals, hats, pennants, sweat shirts, and school stationery. Examining a grotesque animal at the store are Nancy Sorrentino, Carol Moyer, Anita Johnston, and Barry Barto.

Curtains, Sound, Lighting Ably Controlled

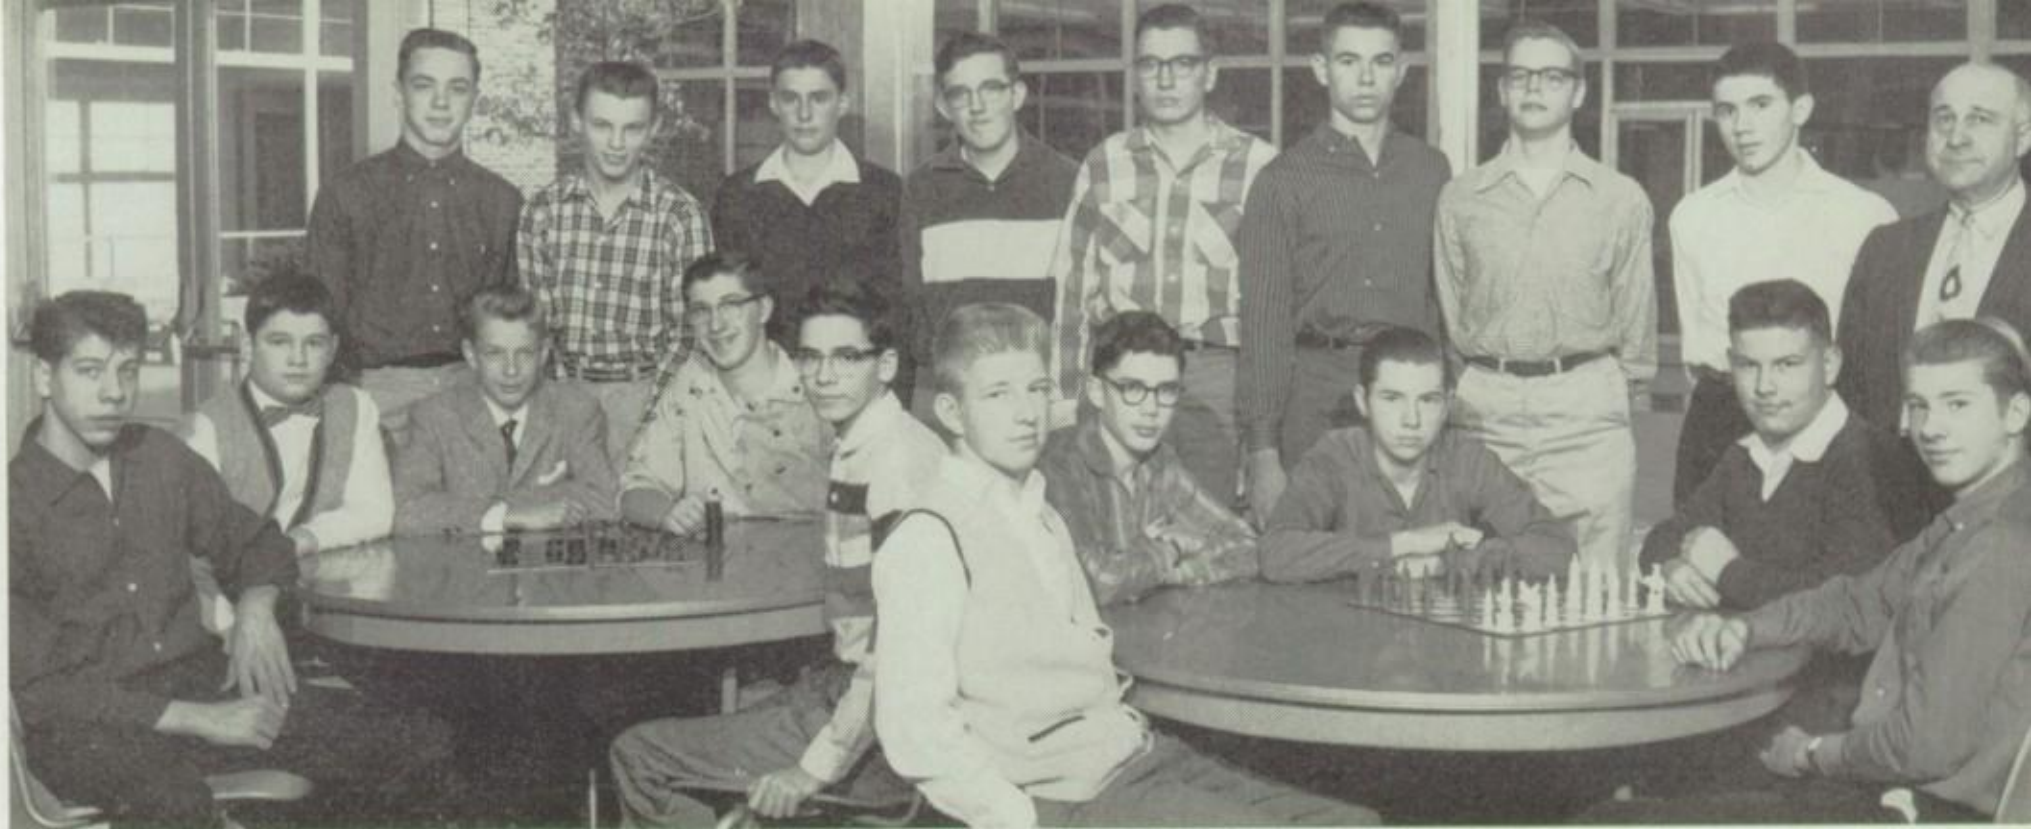

An important part of each production staged by outside and school organizations was assumed by members of the Stage Crew Club who ably took charge of the curtains, sound, and lighting. They not only worked with individual homerooms in preparation for assembly programs, but also helped to make scenery for various shows presented by the school and maintained equipment.

THE LIGHTING control board seemed quite complicated to many students, but Lester Miller and Randall Kneedler, two members of the Stage Crew, handle it easily and efficiently.

ARRANGING COLORS for spotlights was a duty of the members of the Stage Crew. Ronald Miller and William DeEsch change the colors of the spots as Roger Guinther observes.

Chess and Checkers Still Popular

The interest of the Chess and Checkers Club members shows that these two ancient games are still popular today. The goal set by the club was for members first to become acquainted with the rules of the games and then practice what they learned. The champions of chess and checkers were determined by playing one another in each club period.

Drama Guild Members Present An Original Play

A Christmas play, "Twas the Day Before Christmas," presented on December 23 for the entertainment of the student body, was an original play written and staged in modern-dramatic form by the Drama Guild members. During meetings, together with discussions and instructions, the members organized bake sales to raise money. The young Thespians sought experience in theatrics and a better understanding of dramatic skills.

Spanish Life Visualized By Club Members

To learn more about our Spanish speaking friends was the goal set by the members of the Spanish Club. Many club periods were spent discussing the Spanish people and their customs. To become even better acquainted with the country, the students worked conscientiously to gain some knowledge of the Spanish language.

Miss Audrey Kunkle (Adviser), Audrey Knoll (President), Constance Schultz (Secretary), Edward Saddler (Vice-President).

Fundamentals of Chemistry Acquired

The principal objective of the Chemistry Club was to create interest in the field of chemistry. The members acquired some of the fundamentals of this science by means of reports, demonstrations, experiments, and motion pictures. They were also given information about the various chemistry courses offered in colleges.

Useful Experience Gained In Library

The Library Club consisted mostly of girls from the junior and sophomore classes. Knowledge which the girls acquired was put to use when they helped in the library. Mending, filing, shelving of books, and arranging displays in the corridor showcases were some of the jobs performed by members. Donating toys to a day nursery at Christmas time and making an Easter Egg Tree for guests at the Cedarbrook Home were the two projects of the year. Girls who accumulated one thousand points were awarded a gold pin at the end of their junior year.

Aquacade Project of Dolphin Club

Girls who had accomplished intricate water skills were chosen as members of the Dolphin Club. They spent many hours of practice to perfect rhythmic skills and various strokes which were combined into clever water routines and used in the annual aquacade.

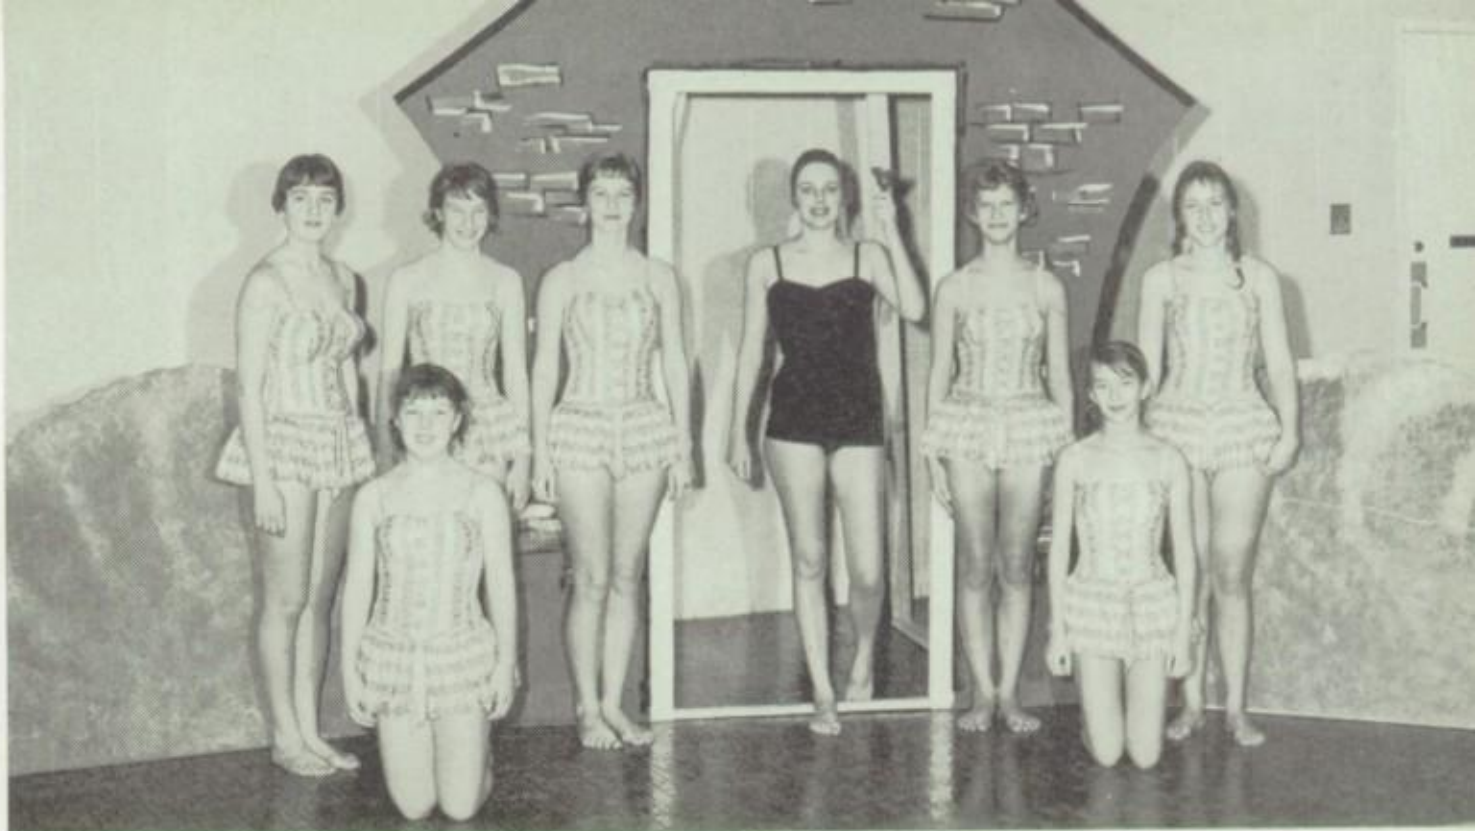

The aquacade, "The Four Seasons," was presented on March 19 and 20 under the direction of Mrs. Rita Blyler and Mr. Leon Tuttle. Each season had the proper scenery to create the appropriate mood. Some of the highlights of the aquacade were a novelty number for spring "Peter Cottontail" and in the summer portion "Picnic" which was portrayed by four couples. In autumn an impressive solo was done to "Autumn Leaves" and "Halloween" was an all senior number. The finale was a Christmas Carol, "O Holy Night," with a manger scene depicting the Christmas spirit.

Band Adds Color and Sparkle To Many School Activities

The Green Hornet Band made a favorable impression on all who watched them perform and was a definite asset to the school. Under the direction of Mr. Jack Long, the members displayed their musical talents at football games, Halloween parades, pep rallies, basketball play-off games, and in the band concert held on April 10. The members also played an important role in the success of "The Lumberjack Supper" which they sponsored.

Individual members of the Green Hornet Band were honored by being accepted in County, District, and State Bands. Twenty-three band members participated in County Band and four members participated in District Band. The State Band representative from the Green Hornet Band was Philip Iobst.

Jackets, chenille letters with a replica of the instrument played, and gold awards were presented to various members of the band.

E-Hive Staff Keeps Readers Well-Informed On School Events

The school year began newspaper-wise with the hustle of selling subscriptions to students and businessmen alike to help raise the money for a bigger and better four-page edition. Financing the cost of publishing the paper was aided by the sponsoring of the first dance of the year, "Autumn Nocturne," the sale of book-covers, and bake sales.

Two printing concerns and the Industrial Arts department, under the supervision of Mr. Glenn Heckman, were involved in the printing of each issue. The aims of the staff, under the direction of Mrs. Hilda Moyer, were to instruct members on the fundamentals of journalism and to entertain and inform their readers. The staff was involved with gathering news, writing features, editing headlines, and typing articles which went into the publication of twelve issues, including two special eight-page Christmas and senior editions.

The Editor-in-Chief of the E-Hive was selected by the adviser and the previous Editor-in-Chief on basis of prior journalistic accomplishments on the school paper. A news editor, a sports editor, and co-feature editors, also chosen for their ability in journalism, helped to make up the staff. The remainder of the staff consisted of circulation managers chosen by the Editor-in-Chief and reporters who wrote trial articles and were chosen by the editors. The typists, artists, and photographers were usually volunteers. After completing two years of service on the staff, E-Hive members are awarded a silver charm or a key chain.

Sports activities soared to glorious heights in 1958-59. Clad in the traditional Green and Gold, the Hornets made their presence known to all competitors. Emmaus High School has been represented well in victory or defeat by the highest quality of sportsmanship.

Turkey Day Victory

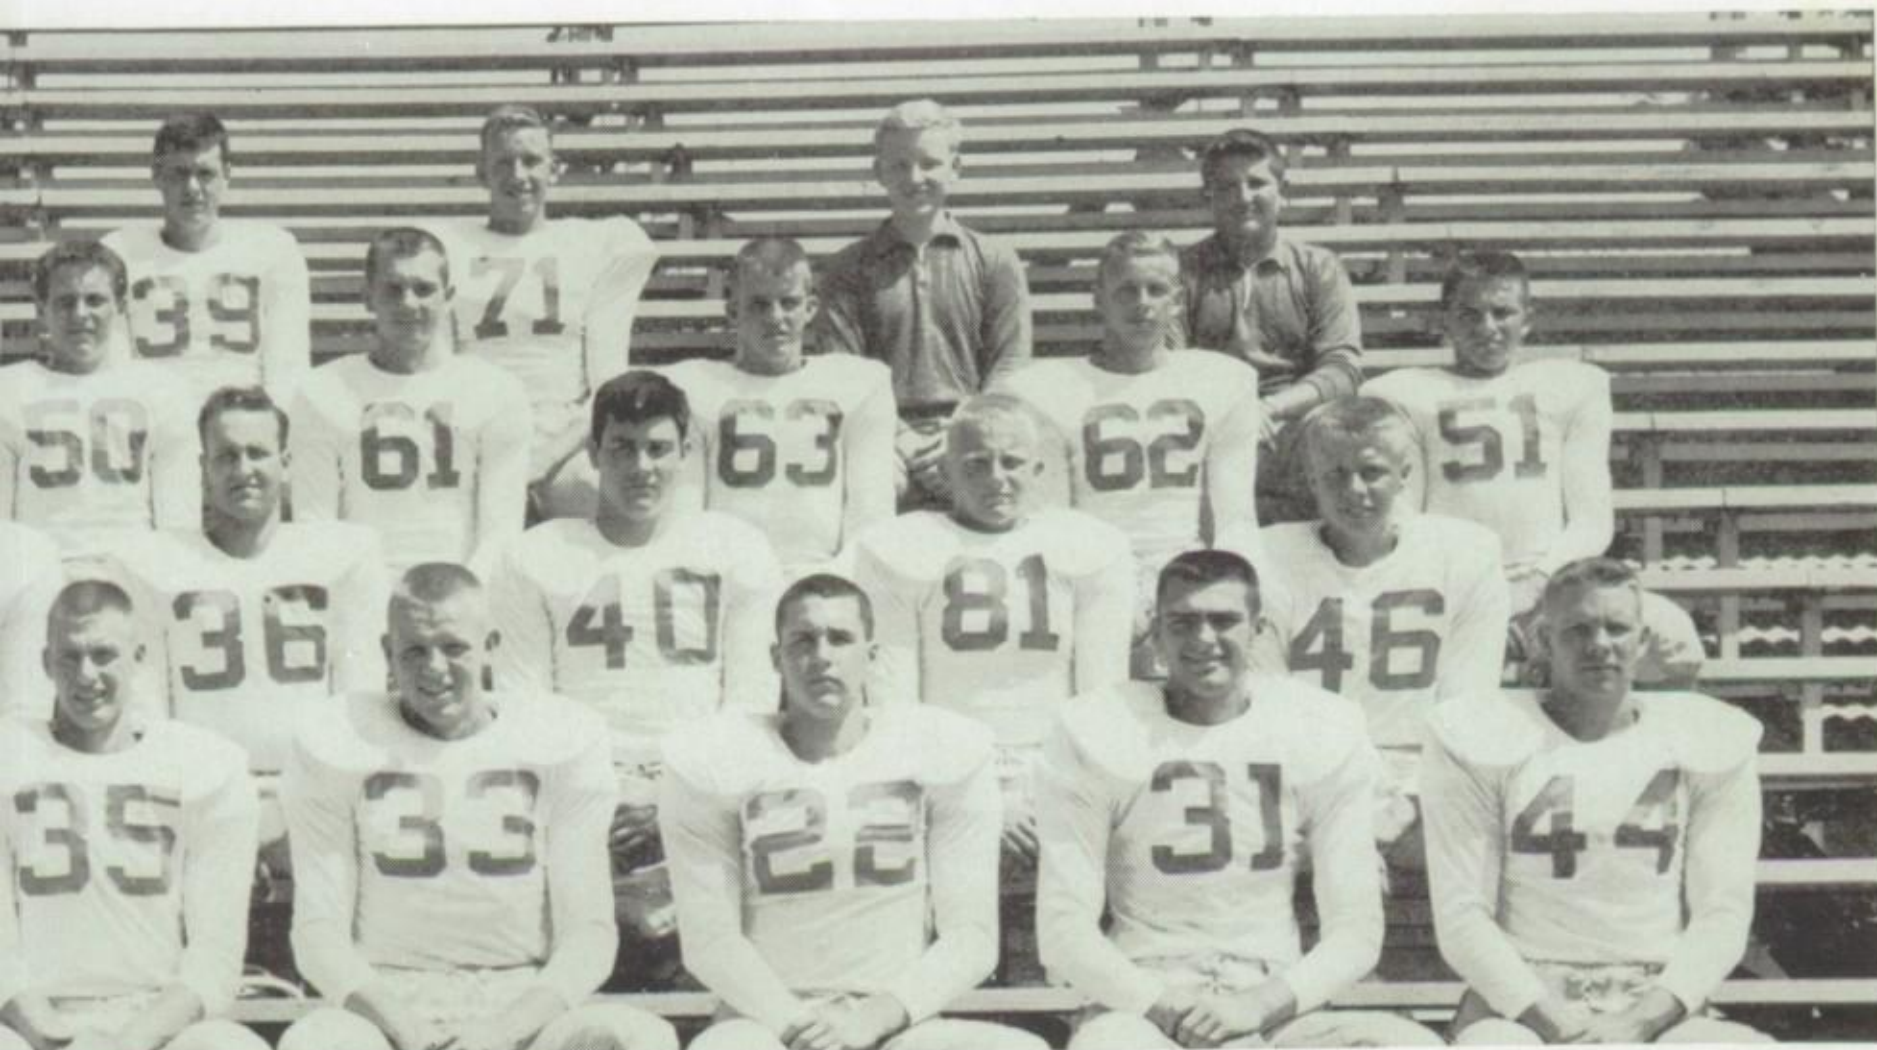

The 1958 Green Hornet football team established an impressive record of seven wins and three losses, which gave the team a hard earned third place in the league as well as the third best season in the history of Emmaus High School.

A combination of mid-August practice sessions and a week at Camp Dent in the Poconos under the skillful eyes of Coach William Lobb and his assistants, Alfred Neff and Kenneth Moyer, prepared the Hornets for the season which they hoped would bring a long awaited championship to Emmaus High.

Possessed with one of the best defensive machines and aerial attacks in the area, the Hornets opened the season by capturing three consecutive victories at home. First, they squeaked by Muhlenberg Township, 16-13, and then subdued Quakertown, 26-13. Opening the league competition, the Green Hornets overwhelmed Stroudsburg, 39-6. The following week, Coach Lobb's proteges suffered their first defeat by losing to their jinx team, Northampton, by a count of 19-6. The Hornets then trounced Slatington on our gridiron, 27-16. A heartbreaking 7-0 defeat was suffered by the Green and Gold after traveling to Catasauqua. Playing their finale at home, the enraged Moravian Boro lads decisively defeated the Lehigh Indians, 39-0.

Starting a trio of away games, the Hornets ran all over the Palmerton team, 48-7, but lost to Wilson Boro, 26-13. In their final game, the annual Turkey Day classic with Whitehall, an enthused and a predominantly senior starting eleven, whipped the Zephyrs, 21-6, their seventh victory of the season.

Junior Hornets Show Varsity Potential

The Junior Varsity football squad of 1958, possessed with that intangible will to win, followed in their big brothers' footsteps by having a very successful season. The Baby Hornets established an impressive record of five victories, two defeats, and a tie, which earned them the mythical title of league champions.

Under the reins of Coaches Richard Shaak and Richard Keim, the Junior gridders opened the season at home by downing Parkland, 22-0. Encountering stiff competition from the Quaker-town and Muhlenberg Township teams, the Jayvees suffered two consecutive losses, but put their massive line to use to eke out a 13-12 victory at the expense of Slatington. The October 20 game with the Catasauqua Rough Riders ended in a hard fought tie, 7-7. Traveling to Lehigh, the Junior Varsity was victorious in its only night game of the season, 6-0. The team completed its championship season at home by winning the final two games with Palmerton and Whitehall by scores of 12-6 and 26-6, respectively, thus giving the squad the necessary experience for next year's varsity competition.

Cheerleading Squads Promote Good

The most faithful rooters of the athletic teams were the Junior Varsity and Varsity cheerleading squads, who served as a link between the players and the spectators, through victory or defeat. Under the direction of Mrs. Adele Gerhart, both groups performed with spirit and poise. Whether the cheers were rising in the cool breezes at the football field or echoing from the rafters of the gymnasium, they assured the teams that they were not alone in their battle for victory.

The varsity squad was resplendent with gold blouses, forest green skirts, and matching Eisenhower jackets. Other than their traditional duty of rousing the fans in coordinated cheers, they

Zephyrs Shock Hornets In Playoff For

With four starters from the 1958 championship team returning, Emmaus was picked as a pre-season Lehigh Valley League favorite. Realizing that competition would be keen, Coach Ken Moyer made the team work as hard as possible to defend its league crown successfully. Players and fans enthusiastically awaited the season expected to be Emmaus' greatest.

Selected as co-captains were Larry Hillegass, a deft ballhandler, floor general, and lay-up artist, and Bill Schantzenbach, a great all-round player, whose faking, foul shooting, and play in the pivot were outstanding. Hillegass, Schantzenbach, and burly Bob Flower, a rugged rebounder and tap-in expert, were three-year varsity veterans.

Also returning was 1958's most improved player — Ron Lauchnor. Known for his breath-taking set shots, Lauchnor used newly acquired height to add rebounding strength to his shooting attributes. Selected to fill the fifth starting berth was graceful Art Weida, whose screaming jump shots and twisting lay-ups swished the cords with equal accuracy and consistency to spearhead the Hornet's offensive. Weida and Lauchnor were selected for the All-League team and Schantzenbach was picked for a second-team slot.

Whenever Coach Moyer needed a replacement, the call invariably went to Neil Schaffer, who scored and rebounded effectively. John Yarema and Bob Roeder added depth to the Hornet bench and played well whenever called upon. Bob Hallman, Don Graef, Walt Banks, Mal Reid, and Tom Conway provided stiff competition for the regulars during practice sessions. Their team spirit and loyalty gave valuable support to the team.

The 1958-1959 basketball season was highlighted by several new records. The Hornets smashed Nazareth, 93 to 51, to establish a top score for an Emmaus team. Emmaus whipped Bethlehem and eventual District XI finalist Allentown for the first time in history. They also captured their initial Lehigh Valley League Christmas Tournament by nipping Whitehall 64-62. When the season ended, the Hornets had won 21 and lost only four games — a new Emmaus record. All four defeats came on the road, and two of them were by only two points.

After a highly successful pre-league season, the Green and Gold moved into L.V.I.A.A. contests. Emmaus finished behind Whitehall in first half play, but battled back into contention for the championship by tying Palmerton for the second-half honors. At Muhlenberg Memorial Hall Emmaus earned the right to meet Whitehall by defeating the Blue Bombers, 50 to 42.

Bethlehem High School was the scene of the championship playoff on February 28, 1959. After leading by as many as seven points, the Hornets faltered during a last period drive by Whitehall. Willard Peifly shocked Emmaus by sinking a field goal with two seconds to play to beat the Hornets, 54-52, ending the greatest basketball season in Emmaus High School history.

HEMMED IN BY ZEPHYRS, Bill Schantzenbach (58) tries to sink a jump shot in L.V.I.A.A. championship game as Bob Flower (56) stands by. Schantzenbach's 18 points were scored in vain, as Whitehall stunned the Hornets, 54 to 52.

Junior Cagers Keep Pace—Lose Only Three Games

A surprising, aggressive, well-coached Junior Varsity basketball team kept in step with its varsity counterparts by establishing an amazing record of sixteen wins and three defeats. The record surpassed the old Jayvee standard of 19-4, which was set during the 1956-1957 season. The junior basketballers also set a record by capturing 13 of 14 league contests.

Outstanding in the record-breaking season was Dale Young, who netted 248 points to lead the J.V. scorers. Hard-driving Jim Long, George Iobst, and Gene Schantzenbach displayed skill and poise in the backcourt for the young Hornets. Lanky Ron Wessner, southpaw Bill Schuster and Rodney Kuhns effectively controlled the boards to trigger devastating fast breaks for Coach Richard Shaak's proteges, who did not lose a game on their home court.

FRANNY SCHLEIFER, Hornette guard, completes a pass across the center line despite efforts of Palmerton's Peggy Steinmetz to block it.

In mid-November, Mrs. Adele Gerhart and seventeen girls commenced practicing for the coming basketball season. Calisthenics, drills, and practice games helped to promote unity and enthusiasm in the attempt to have a squad ready to meet the first opponent, the Parkland Trojanettes, in the home opener on December 2. Despite the sharp shooting of captain Jane Paules, the lassies were edged out by six points. The girls came back strongly to overpower Southern Lehigh and Central Catholic in their next two encounters, before bowing to a team of former Green and Gold stars in the annual alumni game.

The most challenging game for any team to play is one which is marked by a constantly close score. Such was the case in the Emmaus-Whitehall contest, in which the last ten seconds told the heart-breaking story of a hard-fought battle. The tables were turned in a beautifully played game with the Slaters as the Hornettes more than doubled their opponents' output in the last quarter to come from behind for the victory.

Action of this caliber was typical of that displayed throughout the entire season.

The club showed good balance, a fact exemplified by the eleven letter winners. Of these eleven, six will be back next year; three forwards, and three guards. Throughout the year Coach Gerhart used two completely different units, both of which played with great aplomb and skill. While the guards held their opponents to 482 points for the season, the forwards were led by Jane Paules, who accounted for 162 of Emmaus' 459 points, followed by Linda Fehnel with 128.

AWARD WINNERS were Carol Moyer, Most Improved Player Award; Jane Paules, Most Valuable Player Award and the Player's Player Award; and Irene Kline, Most Cooperative Player Award.

Possessed with a keen desire to win, the Green Hornet matmen constantly strove for improvement. In their third year of competition, Coach William Krebs' wrestling team boasted ten lettermen, but had them crowded into too few weight classes. The team, which conquered Southern Lehigh and Whitehall but was narrowly beaten in several matches, compiled a record of two victories and nine defeats.

With nine other area schools, the squad competed in the powerful Lehigh Valley Wrestling League. Undefeated in league matches, the Konkrete Kids of Northampton became seasonal champions. Then on February 27 and 28, Emmaus played host for the District XI tournament, from which Allentown's grapplers emerged with team laurels.

Seven seniors will be lost at graduation, including Most Valuable Wrestler award winner Mel Bruder, whose 8-1-1 record led the Hornets, and Bob Martin, recipient of the Player's Player award. Seven other lettermen, however, will be on hand next year.

Linksmen Have Second Undefeated Season

Coach Keith Smith's Green Hornet golf team over the last two years has compiled a record to be envied by any team. Seven victories this season increased their record to fifteen consecutive matches without a loss. They defeated Southern Lehigh, 15-0 and 16-2; Wilson Boro, 15-3 and 12-6; Nesquehoning, 15½-2½; and Notre Dame, 17-1 and 17½-1½. All the matches were independent since no golf league is organized in the Lehigh Valley.

Though only two members, Harold Serfass and Barry Smoyer, won letters last year, practice rounds at Brookside Country Club cut down the scores and built up the golfing ability of the team. Brookside's course was also the scene for Emmaus' home contests.

The climax of the season was the District XI tournament at Glen Brook Golf Course in Stroudsburg on May 11. The Green Hornet golfers participating in this event were Smoyer, Serfass, Carl Eisenhard, and Ronald Lauchnor. Lauchnor placed second in district competition and played in the state finals at Pennsylvania State University.

Diamond Crew Has New Coach For '59 Season

When spring training commenced on March 4, the baseball squad found great emphasis placed on conditioning. In his first season at the helm Coach Alfred Neff spent long hours working on alert base running, strong fielding, and fundamentals of baseball.

Bolstering the squad were returning lettermen Larry Hillegass, William Bennett, Arthur Weida, Richard Bartholomew, Cary Conrad, William Widmyer, Ronald Svoboda, Ronald Buss, and Tyler Davis. From this group was formed an experienced, all senior infield, while the outfield was composed for the most part, of underclassmen. Handling the lion's share of the pitching chores were Svoboda, Widmyer, and Bill Sabol.

Through nine games, the Hornets had a record of four wins against five setbacks, but still had a good chance for a winning season. At this point, Svoboda was leading the hurlers with a 2-1 record, as well as the hitters with a .284 batting average. Next in performance at the plate was Art Weida, who also scored and batted in the most runs.

Track Team Garners Double Championship

Sweeping through all league opposition, the Green and Gold cindermen attained undisputed claim to the Seasonal Championship of the Lehigh Valley Track League. In doing so, they handed defending champion Northampton its first league defeat since 1954. The Hornets, not willing to rest on their laurels, captured team honors in the annual League Meet, held for the third consecutive year on the local track.

Coach Richard Keim had an array of nine returning letter-winners, effectively placed among the various track and field events, to spark the 1959 team. Leading the team through the seven dual contests were Robert Roeder, unbeaten in the 220 yard dash, and Larry Herald, who won all seven of the half-mile races. In addition, William Schantzenbach took six firsts in the 440 yard dash, and LaVerne Arndt had five wins and a tie in the high jump and broad jump.

In winning the League Meet, the Hornets amassed $34\frac{1}{2}$ points to 32 for runner-up Lehigh-ton. Individual Emmaus triumphs were posted by Roeder in the 100 and 220 yard dashes, Herald in the mile, Steve Kozy in the discus, and Arndt, who tied in the high jump.

Acknowledgment

We, the 1959 TATTLER Staff, wish to extend our sincere appreciation to the business establishments of Emmaus and the surrounding communities for the financial aid given the yearbook staff to make this, the thirty-seventh edition of THE TATTLER, possible.

We wish to thank Mrs. Hilda Moyer, Mrs. Mary Yeager, Mr. Woodrow Schaadt, and the senior English classes for their help in composing the senior biographies; Miss Mildred Strauss and the senior secretarial and clerical students for their help in the typing of yearbook copy; and all others who have cooperated in making this, we hope, another award winning edition of THE TATTLER.
